- Artist may submit up to 3 entries
- Categories: drawing, painting, photography, original prints, ceramics, jewelry, sculpture, textiles, mixed media/found objects
- Work may be submitted from February 1, 2011 until the day of auction
- Artist may have work displayed on the BCOA specialty website for pre-auction viewing. Submit jpeg photos of work to Sandy Simmons-Gamble, aldemoorborzoi@hotmail.com, between February 1, 2011 and March 25, 2011. One photo of 2-D work and three views of 3-D work permitted. Name of artist, name of work, category and media must be included. No work will be sold on-line and will only be sold at the live auction
- All work must be matted and framed, on stand or ready for display and must be accompanied with an entry form. An ID card must be affixed to back, bottom or unobtrusive place
- Artist may set a reserve price. If reserve is not met then work will not be sold
- It is the artist's responsibility for return of unsold work

Artists may deliver work personally or ship at the artist's expense to an address to be provided later.

Additional information: It is strongly suggested that artists attending the show bring their work with them and those persons donating work and not attending the show find someone who can personally deliver the art. If you must ship work please consider size and weight and delicacy of your pieces. Consider also that plexiglas in frames is lighter and more durable than glass. If a piece arrives damaged it cannot be offered for auction. Also consider that if your piece does not sell then you are responsible for its return.

When setting a reserve you should consider the current economy. Entry forms and ID cards available for download will be posted later.

There will also be a Special Junior Showman Art Show and a separate Silent Auction. Details to follow.
