MORE COVER ART NEEDED!
With the holidays ahead, I thought I would do a column I am calling Love Story. The Zoitiques I am sharing tend to tell a story about the love we have in our lives with not only Borzoi but our mates and friends as well. So, without further ado, here is what I have chosen to share with the BCOA Aristocrat readers for this quarter…

Starting off with a print that is appropriately titled “Peaceful Afternoon,” signed by T. H. Giovani and printed in Chicago, IL. It is a lovely scene of women gathered on the steps by a pond with swans swimming nearby. Perhaps they were gathered together while the men were off hunting or maybe it was just a gathering of friends enjoying a mid-summer day. While this isn’t an overly common print, it is often seen at local antique shops. The print, including original frame, measures 24" x 16" and value is around $50.

Yes, this painting is the same as the above print but done by a different artist. A fabulous oil painting on canvas encircled with a lovely oval wood gild frame. This was signed by Henry Werner, Chicago, IL and dated 1925, measuring 19" x 25" with frame. The print was not dated and I cannot find much more information on it, therefore it is hard to determine if the print is a copy from this original oil painting or vice versa. I already had the print in my possession when I came upon the painting in an antique shop. I left it there for a few weeks as the price was $125. Pining over it and fearing it would be sold, I went back to buy it. This was back in the late 1980s. I keep it in a hallway that has no sunlight in order to protect the colors from fading. I value this at $300.

This next piece is truly one of my favorites depicting Diana the Huntress. I believe it may be brass due to the weight of it. At first I thought it was white metal but it is too heavy for that. It measures 9" x 16". As explained in part by Wikipedia: “In Roman mythology, Diana was the goddess of the hunt, the moon and nature, being associated with wild animals and woodland and having the power to talk to and control animals. She was eventually equated with the Greek goddess Artemis, though she had an independent origin in Italy. Diana was known to be the virgin goddess of childbirth and women. She was one of the three maiden goddesses, along with Minerva and Vesta, who swore never to marry. Oak groves were especially sacred to her as were deer. According to mythology (in common with the Greek religion and their deity Artemis), Diana was born with her twin brother, Apollo, on the island of Delos, daughter of Jupiter and Latona.” Shown here hunting, it was obvious she had a deep connection with these women. On the uncommon side, I value this at $175.

Moving onto something I’m a little more familiar with and at ease talking about: ceramics and porcelains. I suppose you could consider these Borzoi on the side of ugly; they are resting while the woman and man are about to kiss. Made in Italy, this is a heavy ceramic piece painted in the stark colors many older Italian pieces are known for. It measures a large 21" x 9" x 9". This is an older piece from around the 1950s, quite rare and valued at $150.

Made in Germany is this porcelain in colonial times. When you...

BCOA 2016 Obedience Rankings
for BCOA member-owned Borzoi, January 1 to September 30, 2016

Corrections to June Mintchell, PO Box 31, N Manchester, IN 46961, rmintchell@yahoo.com

The first person listed as the dog's owner by AKC must be a BCOA member to be included. To be ranked #1 overall at year's end, a dog must have at least 3 QS from the regular classes and all QS from the regular classes will be averaged for that dog. To be ranked #1 in any particular class at year's end only 1 score is needed.

BCOA 2016 Rally Rankings
for BCOA member-owned Borzoi, January 1 to June 30, 2016

Corrections to June Mintchell, PO Box 31, N Manchester, IN 46961, rmintchell@yahoo.com

The first person listed as the dog’s owner by AKC must be a BCOA member to be included. To be ranked #1 overall at year’s end, a dog must have at least 3 QS from the regular classes and all QS from the regular classes will be averaged for that dog. To be ranked #1 in any particular class at year’s end only 1 score is needed.

There have been a whopping 44 Borzoi with qualifying scores in rally novice so far this year.

only look at the front of the dog, it is questionable if it is a Borzoi or not, which is why I took a picture of the backside as well so that you can see the slight rise in the loin, long hair and very bushy tail. To me that is a Borzoi plain and simple. As with the other items I am showing, you can tell there is love between this man and woman. However, with the man extending his hand towards her, what is the real story behind this scene? Perhaps he is explaining why he was out with the guys; who knows? This is also a less common piece and quite small measuring a little over 4" x 2" x 3". Value on this is around $25.

Back to Italy… this is a much nicer rendition of Borzoi relaxing with their family. Almost appears to be the same people and the same dress. Even the grass “bumps” have the same spaghetti type look to it.

Again looking to smooch (kiss) it up a bit, while the Borzoi appear bored with the whole scenario. This piece is oddly made as it is almost circular measuring 16" x 12" but the underside has no base to it. You could set this on top of a ball to hold in place to give you an idea of what I mean about no base; however, I wouldn’t suggest it. Again a heavy ceramic material. A rare piece valued around $300.

Back to the country of Germany and the colonial garb, this man and woman staring down at one of the Borzoi. That particular Borzoi seems to have the look of a naughty pleased dog many of us can relate to. Maybe it tore something up and got scolded. The other Borzoi just seems to be looking at the couple as if to say it wasn’t me! This lightweight porcelain made by the German company of Sitzendorf. It measures 15" x 5" 10" is very rare and valued at $350.

Finally, we have another German Sitzendorf piece made of much higher quality and heavy porcelain. While being an older piece, I would venture to say this is newer than the previous statue due to the thickness of the porcelain. Well trained Borzoi here as the woman holds a small treat in her hand and they wait patiently to have a taste. Not sure if she planned to break the small treat into two pieces of not but I know my dogs eat larger treats than that! It seems as though the couple are gazing lovingly upon the Borzoi as all people should! Period dress again from the colonial times. Rare porcelain that tells a wonderful story, it measures 9" x 4" x 9" with a value of $400.

That concludes the Unique Zoitiques column for this quarter. I hope you enjoyed it and took away some satisfaction reading it and perhaps gained a little knowledge of collectibles at the same time. Let peace and love be upon you as I look forward to chatting with you again next quarter!

APHIS – Animal Welfare Act – Retail Pet Store Rule (RPS Rule)

Submitted by Legislative Liaison Rita Rice

10/1/15 Guidance for Breeders, Brokers and Importers

The complete AWA and current regulations (Blue Book) are available at http://tinyurl.com/largc6w.

AWA – passed in 1966, sets general standards for humane care and treatment required for certain animals sold at wholesale, through a broker, publicly exhibited, used in biomedical research, or commercially transported.

The AWA does not apply to coldblooded animals or farm animals used or exhibited for agricultural purposes.

The USDA has authority over animal abuse only by those whom USDA regulates or require regulation under the AWA. Individual state laws control all other animal abuse.

The AWA (as reinterpreted) focuses on the welfare of the animal; it’s not a consumer protection law.

By using face-to-face transactions, the buyer provides public oversight and helps to insure the animal’s health and humane treatment. The goal is to ensure that the USDA monitors pets sold to the public, at retail, sight-unseen for health care and humane treatment.

A Retail Pet Store (RPS) is a place of business or residence at which the seller, buyer, and the animal available for purchase are physically present so that the buyer may observe the animal in person before purchasing and taking custody of it.

Retail Pet Stores don’t need a USDA license because the animals are already subject to public oversight.
- The number of breeding females you have on your premises isn’t relevant if all pet animals are sold in face to face transactions
- A facility with four or fewer breeding female dogs (etc) isn’t subject to USDA regulation as long as all of the animals offered for sale were born and raised on the seller’s premises
- Rescue groups that participate in face-to-face transactions, such as off site adoptions, are subject to public oversight. If the group handles transactions that are not face to face or are wholesale, they will need a license.
- Shipping even one animal sight unseen can disqualify the seller/adopter from the RPS exemption.

“Commercial” USDA Regulated Transactions
- No change to “brick and mortar” store – they are still exempt
- No change for current USDA licensees
- No change for boarding kennels

Rescue:
- There is no definition for rescue in the AWA or regulations; the same regulations apply to the activity or the group’s method of sale or placement. Groups that participate in face to face transactions are subject to public oversight and won’t need a license. Any group that has any transactions regarding dogs for use as pets that are not face to face may need a license.
- The final rule doesn’t apply to government owned or operated shelters or to agents of the government.
- The USDA considers most rescue groups to fall under the definition of dealer, including transporting of animals for compensation.
- Compensation includes any remuneration for the animal, regardless of whether it is for profit or not for profit.
- Rescue groups using sight unseen transactions and utilizing foster homes would have to list all of the sites housing animals so that USDA could conduct inspections. If all sales are face to face, they would be exempt from licensing.
- Volunteers that transport regulated animals may need to register as Intermediate Handlers or Carriers. Volunteers will need to register if they receive any remuneration for the transport, including reimbursement for expenses.

Breeders who assist Rescue:
- Breeders would need a license (even if they are otherwise exempt) if they assist rescue groups who conduct sight unseen transactions.
- Breeders who assist via transport for any compensation may need to register as an Intermediate Handler.

Breeders do NOT need a license IF:
- They have four or fewer breeding females on their premises
- They have more than four breeding females, but sell all pets face-to-face
- They have more than four breeding females, but do not sell to the public (preservation of bloodlines)
- They sell or adopt dogs not raised on their premises only in face to face transactions

Breeders DO need a license IF:
- They have a combination of more than four breeding females and dogs for adoption, and sell or adopt some of those animals sight unseen
- They sell or adopt dogs not born and raised on their premises and sell them sight unseen
- They sell pets sight unseen to buyers outside of the US

Details:
- Face to face transactions do not have to take place at the kennel or residence of the seller. The buyer, seller, and animal may meet at any mutually agreeable location
- Video doesn’t constitute face to face
- The rule doesn’t regulate advertising; only the final sale
- The buyer must be the purchaser or a family member or friend, but they may not be a veterinarian, dealer, transporter, intermediate handler, agent or employee and must meet the requirements for a face to face transfer
- Breeding Female is defined as intact females with the capacity to breed; owner must provide evidence of age/infirmity to exempt an intact female
- The number of Breeding Females includes visiting breeding females

Calling All CHIC Borzoi!

Does Your Borzoi Have a CHIC Number?
Great! You Can Win $200!

If your dog has a CHIC number and wins Best of Breed, Best of Opposite Sex, or Best in Triathlon at the BCOA National, you win $200! And if your puppy wins Best in Futurity at the National and both parents have their CHIC numbers, you also win $200!

This CHIC Award, initiated in 2005 to honor Dr. Asa Mays, recognizes breeders who test their dogs and are willing to share those results — good, bad or equivocal — with the public.

How Can Your Borzoi Get a CHIC Number?

First, your Borzoi must have some form of permanent identification such as a microchip or a tattoo.

Next, your Borzoi must have the following four screening tests recorded with the Orthopedic Foundation for Animals (OFA), with all results shared with the public:

• Eye screening by board certified veterinary ACVO Ophthalmologist using the OFA screening protocol.
• Autoimmune Thyroiditis screening through an OFA approved laboratory.
• Congenital Cardiac OFA screening (Now the Advanced Cardiac Database).
• Degenerative Myelopathy (DM) DNA screening through OFA.

If you choose, you can also include these two OPTIONAL test with your CHIC:
• Hip Dysplasia with an OFA hip evaluation or a PennHIP evaluation.
• Elbow Dysplasia using an OFA evaluation.

Remember, normal results are not required for a CHIC number. What is important is the willingness to share screening results openly with other breeders in the OFA database — thus helping all breeders make informed decisions for the betterment of the breed.

Once all required screening tests are submitted, processed and placed into the OFA database website, your dog will automatically received its CHIC number. Go to www.offa.org for more details for each of the above listed tests.

How Can Your Borzoi Who is DM Clear by Parentage Get a CHIC Number?

If your dog’s sire and dam are both registered with OFA as DM “Clear” your dog does not need to be tested for DM to get a CHIC number. However, you must officially register your dog as “Clear by Parentage” in order to get a CHIC number. Once this is done and the information appears on the OFA website, your dog will get a DM clearance number with the suffix of CBP (clear by parentage). The CHIC number will automatically be awarded at that time.

Only the offspring of DM-tested clear dogs can gain an OFA DM clearance without testing. Second generation dogs from four OFA DM Clear grandparents and OFA “Clear by Parentage” parents must be tested for DM to gain an OFA clearance and a CHIC number.

For more information on the OFA’s Clear by Parentage policy: http://www.offa.org/dna_cbp.html

For more information on how to register a dog who is clear by parentage: http://www.offa.org/cbp.html

Start now so your Borzoi will be ready for those big wins at the 2017 BCOA National!
